

A rare and unique concert of Dhrupad singing on a beautiful summer morning, in the lovely ambiance of Old Montreal

Umakant and Ramakant Gundecha (Vocal) with Akhilesh Gundecha - Pakhawaj

An ancient genre of North Indian classical vocal music that is believed to have originated several thousand years ago, Dhrupad is a purely spiritual art form that transports and uplifts listeners and singers alike to a higher level of consciousness.

The artists, who learnt their art from Ustad Zia Fariduddin Dagar and Ustad Mohiuddin Dagar, are preeminent performers and teachers of this ancient temple music. Effortless on every note bright and clear in Meend, exquisite in texture brought the program to an unexpected level of quality.

The Times of India, New Delhi

Saturday 26 June 2010 at 11 AM,
Salle de la commune, Marché Bonsecours
350 rue St-Paul E., Old Montreal

Admission: $20, Students & 65 yrs+: $15 (Rebate of 20% for Kabir Centre Members)

Tickets: Buy through Paypal at www.centrckabir.com, or Call: (514) 931-0942, (514) 586-3148, (514) 695-3264