
PALDI VILLAGE

Vancouver Island, British Columbia

The community of Paldi is a former sawmilling town located in the Cowichan Valley on Vancouver Island. With settlement beginning around 1908, the community became the centre of the South Asian Canadian forest industry in the Cowichan Valley until a devastating fire in 1945.

Dear Joan,
My name is Kim Gough + I work at the Royal BC Museum. I recently worked on the development of an outreach kit about Paldi + your book + fonds were of extreme help. Kathrine Gagnon also helped with reviewing the material + with ~~interviewing~~/recording you reading aloud from your book.

I picked up this card at the launch of the South Asian Canadian Legacy Projects (including the outreach kit) to send you as a thanks. Kind regards, Kim

SOUTH ASIAN CANADIAN LEGACY PROJECT

SOUTH ASIAN STUDIES INSTITUTE
University of the Fraser Valley

UNIVERSITY OF THE FRASER VALLEY

SCAN WITH YOUR PHONE FOR MORE

Get more resources to engage with South Asian Canadian history.
www.threadingourstories.ca

PB031517147 6
038488 2WtS^
0422 173855

CANADA POSTES
POST CANADA
00.92
V8V 1X4 2022.04.22

Joan Mayo
[redacted]

© 2022 University of the Fraser Valley. Illustration by Raghav Modgil (@geminotrous on Instagram). Photograph courtesy Cowichan Valley Museum and Archives. Vector graphic: Vecteezy